The Geeked Out Ninjas Cosmakers

MJ and Shawn, known for their bigger builds and “captain” cosplay, are competitive cosplayers hailing from Boise, Idaho. Every year since MJ and Shawn have been together since 2007, they have made their own Halloween costumes for their Taekwondo school’s annual Halloween party for kids to enjoy. But it wasn’t until 2014 at a comic convention in Boise, ID where they first competed in a cosplay competition. MJ and Shawn were walking around the convention floor in their Wolverminion and Agnes Cosplay (Despicable Me) and were asked to partake in the cosplay competition. They placed 2nd in the novice division. Thereafter they had realized that they had the potential to build and compete at cosplay competitions. Since then they have competed and placed in numerous cosplay competitions, including Best in Show at Wizard World Boise in 2018.

Mitsuko Illustrations

Mitsuko is an artist from Boise, Idaho with a BFA in Illustration from Boise State University. While Mitsuko's art aims to visualize a narrative related to practicing mindfulness, the purpose of her work is to center the viewer and find something that may have been missed upon first glance. The detail orientated nature of my art, as well as the use of contrasting and vibrant colors, is enticing and it forces the viewer to look carefully and slowly. Mitsuko's art is associated with the present day, but her hope is to evoke a memory response from the viewer that may have been forgotten through time.

MTGJoeD

Joe is a writer and creator from Boise, Idaho, and comics have always been a huge inspiration for him. Everything he makes - whether it's zines, video essays, or games - comes from a love of storytelling and creativity sparked by comics. Joe makes video essays on YouTube (that are often at least tangentially comic related) and writes and draws zines and mini-comics. Joe is a world-record speedrunner for Batman: Vengeance, a 2000s game for the Nintendo Gamecube based on Batman: The Animated Series. Joe is also developing an indie horror game called The Idaho Instance, inspired by a real-life cornfield that used to be in Meridian.

Noblehardesty.com

Noble Hardesty is a contemporary Northwest artist residing in Boise, Idaho. His inspired and prolific work is heavily influenced by the lowbrow aesthetics of graffiti, tattoo artistry, and comics/cartoons. From the violent and visceral to the soft and romantic, his wide scope of subject matter incorporates movement, hard lines, and candy sweet colors. Pieces range from small scale ballpoint pen drawings to vibrant 36" x 80" paintings. Straddling the fine line of fantasy and reality, Noble's work is an exploration of the blur in between.

The Spooky Dinosaur

Spooky Dinosaur is the sobriquet of visual artist [redacted]. As an eternal being going through his second play-through of life on Earth (gaining immortality his first time through) he reached the inevitable heat death of the universe, and time traveled back to the time of the dinosaurs. They were really fun, but now, after endless millennia of goings on he is trying his hand at the artist life, doing whatever art comes to mind. Working mostly in watercolour, monsters and surreal works seem to be a favorite, things that ancient dark beings ask him to draw. He has a comic in the works and is hoping to continue this path even further, before that heat death thing happens.
